I N T R O D U C T I O N

In the fall of 1943 I conceived the idea of developing a genealogy which would show graphically the descendants of the ten children of my grandfather Henry Sunday (1827-1908) down to the present time. As this phase of the work progressed, I enlarged upon the scope of the work by endeavoring to obtain like data as far back as my great-great-grandfather Henry Sunday (1757-1831). While that was my objective, it was an end I realized I could hardly hope to attain in every respect.

The idea was prompted by two primary factors; namely, my personal interest in learning more about the origin and history of my ancestors and their relationship one to another, and my desire to reactivate, as it were, contacts with presently living descendants. Too frequently personal contacts have been lost due to the movement and growth of families, changes in the family name due to marriage, and the pace of the world in which we live. The loss of contact can be said to be unfortunate, but not wholly unexpected in the world of today.

In embarking upon this work it was realized that very little information was immediately at hand, and that any resulting measure of success would depend, to a very large degree, upon the cooperation of others. The assembling of data of this nature, in the orthodox manner, would ordinarily require very extensive research, the employment of outside agencies, and the incurring of considerable expense. These matters were the deciding factors, therefore, in charting my course; namely, to proceed largely on my own hoping for extensive assistance from the presently living descendants.

The data which has been compiled resulted from considerable research on my part in the libraries in Philadelphia; an examination of vital statistics records in the courthouse at New Bloomfield, Perry County, Pennsylvania; visitation of cemeteries; information received from the Department of the Army in Washington, D.C.; family Bibles; conversations; and from questionnaires which were forwarded my relatives who in turn supplied data with respect to their families.

Much information is lacking, however, especially with respect to the older generations and their descendants. This is due to the passage of time which increases tremendously the difficulty of uncovering data, the inability to obtain leads or clues from presently living relatives regarding these families, and the limited amount of research time I was able to devote to this work which consisted primarily of evenings, weekends and vacations.

It would have been interesting to include in the genealogy information such as dates of marriages, occupations and present places of residence; but I did not wish to impose too great a burden upon those who contributed data by requesting this additional information. Consequently, the foregoing data is not included, except for a few known addresses which appear in the Index of Names in the rear of the book. Nor has there been included data relative to the ancestors of those who married into the Sunday line of descendants for the reason that this type of data is not genealogical in nature but merely historical.

With respect to information received in writing through the questionnaires returned by presently living descendants, I do not claim to have used it faultlessly in all cases. The questionnaire information, along with all other information, had to be collected from many sources at various periods of time, and assembled into its present form. Where there are misstatements or omissions of any kind in the charts and text, all persons are requested to advise me of them and to give the correct information. I am especially very desirous that anyone who can do so shall give me additional information about those early families for which thus far only a limited amount of data has been obtained.

This genealogy cannot be said to be as of a fixed date for the reason that the data has been collected over a period of approximately two years. An endeavor has been made, however, to reflect changes which have come to my attention up to the time the data was released for printing.

To attempt to make an acknowledgment of those who have assisted in the preparation of this genealogy would be most difficult. The genealogy reflects the cooperation of the many relatives, either directly or indirectly, and the cooperation of persons outside the relationship.

It was especially gratifying to me in the course of the work to have experienced such splendid cooperation, especially in view of the fact that many of the relatives contacted I had not previously met, while with others I had been out of contact for many years.

Words of encouragement received from various individuals from time to time during the progress of the work were appreciated and were very helpful, especially during those periods when the research led into "blind alleys", or when conflicting rather than confirming information was found.

In contrast with the periods of discouragement, the visits which I made to many homes in the course of the work will long be remembered. These visits afforded me an opportunity to renew the acquaintance of some relatives whom I had not seen for many years, as well as becoming acquainted with others I had not known were relatives at the inception of the work. These visits were most cordial and stimulating. I am hopeful that conditions will permit a renewal of these contacts from time to time, and that I shall have the opportunity of meeting many of the other relatives included in these pages.

With respect to the Family Charts (Chapter VIII) and that portion of the text which represents original development by this author, no copyright was applied for. The protection of the author's financial interest in this work is waived in the interest of making available to any person the data contained herein for use in preparing a more complete genealogy of the Sundays and their descendants at any time in the future.

Some portions of the text do, however, constitute copyrighted material used by this author with the written permission of the original authors or publishers. These portions are represented by many of the quoted sections appearing in the text in which acknowledgement has been given to both the titles of the publications and the respective authors. In a few cases the quoted sections are from publications for which the copyrights have expired, and no permission was needed for their use.

This genealogy should be instrumental in increasing our knowledge of the older, as well as the present, generations.

CHAPTER I

VARIATIONS IN THE SPELLING OF THE FAMILY NAME

Variations in the spelling of family names is not unusual, and the surname Sunday is no exception. In the course of the research many variations were found extending throughout the entire period covered. These variations in spelling in the earlier years cannot be explained except possibly by realizing that the names originated in the Old World, and when converting them into the English equivalent they were frequently spelled just as the pronunciation sounded in the former tongue.

The spelling appearing in the Will of my great-great-grandfather Henry Sunday (1757-1831) is very good evidence of how great-great-grandfather spelled his name in English and in German. In the body of the Will the spelling appears as Henry Sunday, but the signature is Heinrich Sundag, which is one form of the spelling in German. Similarly, in the body of the Will of my great-grandfather Henry Sunday (1788-1836) the name appears as Henry Sunday, but the signature is Heinrich Suntag. This is another variation of the spelling in German. Here it is observed that even the father and the son differ in the German spelling of their surnames when signing their Wills, both of which were executed within a fourteen-year period.

Variations in spelling are also found on gravestones; in old tax lists of the 13th Century; in the 1790 census records; in official records of the War Department and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania covering those who served in the wars of this country; and in various other records found in the course of the research work. In some instances the variations are known to relate to the same individual. Variations are especially noticeable in records which relate to the 18th and 19th Centuries during which time there was a definite reluctance in many quarters to change over to the English language, as was evidenced by difficulties which were experienced when regulations were issued requiring schools to be conducted in English instead of in German.

It has been my endeavor to spell each person's name exactly as it appears in the old records, and as submitted to me through the questionnaires referred to in the Introduction. Some liberties have been taken, however, when the spelling was obviously in error.

Following are the principal variations in the spelling of the name Sunday which have come to my attention in the course of the work:

Sundy	Sonntag
Sundag	Sontagh
Suntag	Sondagh
Sunday	Sundock
Sondag	Sandock
Sontag

Special emphasis is placed upon variations in spelling which relate to the German for the reason that my great-great-grandfather is definitely of German lineage, and many of the names given the children of these early ancestors are typically German.

CHAPTER II

RESEARCH AND COMPILATION

To the student of history and research, the preparation of a genealogy can be an interesting and fascinating undertaking. Although not a student of either, in the professional sense, this undertaking proved to be most interesting regardless of the inability to definitely establish ancestors beyond my great-great-grandfather Henry Sunday (1757-1831), and regardless of the inability to complete the genealogy for a number of the earlier families.

The principal research work in libraries consisted of (1) an endeavor to find a previously published genealogy, in whole or in part, of the surname Sunday; (2) an endeavor to find records of immigrants to this country bearing the family name and tracing these immigrants forward to my great-great-grandfather Henry Sunday (1757-1831); (3) a search for places of residence in the 18th and 19th Centuries of those bearing the family name; and (4) a review of records containing names of those who participated in the early wars of this country.

With respect to finding a genealogy of the family name, the research which was made disclosed that none exists. Genealogies were found for many other family names, dating back to Colonial days, in the library of the Pennsylvania Historical Society in Philadelphia, and in the several public libraries of the City of Philadelphia. With respect to records of immigrants to this country bearing the family name, early places of residence, and participation in early wars, interesting data were found which are included in subsequent chapters.

The research work also involved visits to many cemeteries, most of which are in Perry County, Pennsylvania, and located in areas where a number of the early ancestors and descendants at one time resided. These visits were for the purpose of (1) obtaining dates of birth and death, and (2) ascertaining to what extent information could be found relative to unknown ancestors or relations. This latter phase of the search necessitated the reading of all gravestones in many of the graveyards and cemeteries.

A search was made of birth and death records in the courthouse at New Bloomfield, Perry County, Pennsylvania, for the purpose of obtaining dates, and for the purpose of endeavoring to ascertain the names of the parents of the deceased in order that proper relationship could be established in the genealogical development. A review was also made of some Wills, especially those made in the 1800's for the purpose of finding names mentioned in the Wills, such as the wife and children. The data obtained from the Wills were very helpful in confirming data obtained from other sources, and in a few cases supplied names of children which otherwise would not have been included in this work.

There is included in the Appendix a copy of the Will of my great-great-grandfather Henry Sunday (1757-1831), and of my great-grandfather Henry Sunday (1788-1836). The names obtained from these Wills were most helpful.

The compilation of the data and information obtained through research and through other sources into a form which would prove interesting, and at the same time practical for reference purposes, was given considerable thought. Some of the data are best suited for presentation in text form and are so included, while other data appear in the form of Family Charts (Chapter VIII) which show the origin and development of the many families.

For the purpose of preparing the reader for the succeeding chapters, a few observations are offered at this point relative to the conclusions reached, together with a few of the interesting statistics which came to light in the course of the work. They are as follows:

1. In four of the succeeding chapters entitled "The Pilgrim Fathers and the Family Name", "German Migration to the New World", "Places of Residence of the Early Ancestors", and "The Early Ancestors in Wars of This Country", it was hoped to definitely establish connections between my great-great-grandfather Henry Sunday (1757-1831) and (1) those bearing the surname Sunday who migrated to this country, (2) the early settlers in eastern Pennsylvania, and (3) those who fought in the several wars extending from the American Revolution through the Civil War. While it is not possible to conclusively establish connections in every instance, nevertheless it appears certain that ancestors of my great-great-grandfather came from Germany; and it appears reasonably certain that there is a relationship between my great-great-grandfather and some of those mentioned in the chapters referred to above.

2. While some families are missing, either in whole or in part, on the Family Charts appearing in Chapter VIII, the extent to which known families and descendants have increased is, nevertheless, very interesting. The number of individuals included on all the Charts is approximately 1,200. Had it been possible to obtain data for the remaining families and their descendants, the number would undoubtedly have increased very substantially.

3. The three oldest living descendants included on the Family Charts are as follows:

Amos V. Hair, born in 1864 -----	Age 86 years
Walter Sunday, born in 1865 -----	Age 35 years
Charles W. Sundy, born in 1867 -----	Age 83 years

4. The three youngest living descendants included on the Family Charts are:

Karen Mae Leshner, born April 24, 1950, daughter of
Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sunday Leshner of New Kingstown, Cumberland County, Pennsylvania.

David Robert Cochran, born May 28, 1950, son of
Mr. and Mrs. Elmer W. Cochran of 4406 Sanson Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Brian Leon Sunday, born July 21, 1950, son of
Mr. and Mrs. Leon Kenneth Sunday of Carlisle R.D. #1,
Cumberland County, Pennsylvania.

5. Longevity and large families are especially noticeable in the older generations, where ages of 75 to 90 years were attained in many cases, and where families of 10 children were not uncommon. Generally speaking, families have been decreasing in size, although in a few of the more recent generations the size of the family substantially follows the pattern of the older generations.

6. Approximately 300 letters were written in the course of the work, extending into states as far west as Texas, Oklahoma, Minnesota and Oregon. In only a few cases out of all the letters written were no replies received, even after a follow-up letter had been forwarded requesting the family data for inclusion on the Family Charts.

CHAPTER III

THE PILGRIM FATHERS AND THE FAMILY NAME

Looking backward 330 years to 1620 for the purpose of ascertaining whether any of the Pilgrim Fathers or their descendants married into Sunday families might appear to be carrying the research work too far. However, it is interesting to know that a Henry S. Sonntag married an Alice L. Chamberlain who was a descendant of Richard Warren, one of the Pilgrim Fathers; and that a Henrietta Sonntag was born to this union.

The foregoing marriage, together with the development of the line of descent from Richard Warren appearing later in this chapter, are matters of record in the MAYFLOWER INDEX which was compiled and edited for The General Society of Mayflower Descendants by William Alexander McAuslan in 1932. The names appearing in the MAYFLOWER INDEX are taken from the approved lineage papers on file with The General Society of Mayflower Descendants prior to February 10, 1931.

No attempt has been made to connect this Henry S. Sonntag (also spelled Henry S. Sunday in Part II of the MAYFLOWER INDEX) with the older Sunday generations appearing in the Family Charts in Chapter VIII, but the facts are considered of sufficient general interest to include in this work. Possibly someone, someday, may be sufficiently ambitious to further pursue the matter.

Unfortunately, the MAYFLOWER INDEX does not contain dates of birth, marriage and death; but through a series of family numbers it is a simple matter to trace the descendants and to obtain the names of those who married into the line descending from each of the Pilgrim Fathers.

The following tabulation shows the line of descent from Pilgrim Father Richard Warren to Henrietta Sonntag, the daughter of Henry S. Sonntag and Alice L. Chamberlain:

RICHARD WARREN, of the Mayflower, had 7 children one of whom was a son Nathaniel into whose line of descendants Henry S. Sonntag married, all as developed below:

Nathaniel Warren married Sarah Walker

their daughter

Alice Warren married Thomas Gibbs

their daughter

Abigail Gibbs married Jireh Swift

their son

Jabez Swift married Abigail Pope

their daughter

Abigail Swift married Peleg Chamberlain

their son

Leander Chamberlain married Mercy Berry

their son

Leander Chamberlain married Susana Willey

their son

Croydon S. Chamberlain married Elizabeth Bissell

their daughter

Alice L. Chamberlain married Henry S. Sonntag

and to this union there was born

Henrietta Sonntag

Richard Warren was one of the 41 Pilgrim Fathers who signed the Mayflower Compact--an agreement constituting the first written American Constitution. The Compact was signed in the cabin of the Mayflower to serve as a form of government because the Pilgrims possessed no charter. It was democratic in spirit and was in force until 1691. A copy of the Mayflower Compact follows:

"IN YE name of God, Amen. -- We whose names are underwritten, the loyall subjects of our dread soveraigne Lord, King James, by ye grace of God, of Great Britaine, France, & Ireland King, defender of ye faith, etc.

"Haveing undertaken, for ye glorie of God, and advancement of ye christian faith, and honour of our King & Countrie, a yoyage to plant ye first colonie in ye Northerne parts of Virginia, doe by these presents solemnly & mutually in ye presence of God, and one of another, covenant & combine our selves togeather into a civill body politick, for our better ordering & preservation & furtherance of ye ends afore-said; and by vertue hearof to enact, constitute, and frame such just & equall lawes, ordinances, acts, constitutions, & offices, from time to time, as shall be thought most meete & convenient for ye generall good of ye Colonie, unto which we promise all due submission and obedience.

"In witness whereof we have hereunder subscribed our names at Cap-Cod ye 11 of November, in ye year of ye raigne of our soveraigne Lord, King James, of England, France, & Ireland ye eighteenth, and of Scotland ye fiftie forth, Ano Dom. 1620."

It may be merely a coincidence that the name "Abigail" appearing in the line of descendants from Pilgrim Father Richard Warren reappears in the name of my great-aunt Abigail Sunday (1814-1865) who married Andrew Comp, Jr. On the other hand it could be significant. However, in the absence of definite proof, no relationship with Pilgrim Father Richard Warren is claimed.

GERMAN MIGRATION TO THE NEW WORLD

In a three-volume publication entitled PENNSYLVANIA GERMAN PIONEERS by Ralph Beaver Strassburger, President of the Pennsylvania German Society, there is contained a most interesting record of German immigration to this country. The publication also contains lists of Immigrants to this country arriving at the port of Philadelphia between 1727 and 1808. The trials and tribulations which attended the migration to the New World, as set forth in the foregoing publication, could also apply to the Sunday ancestors for the reason that the ships' lists of arrivals include those bearing the name Sunday or the German equivalent. It is quite possible that my great-great-grandfather Henry Sunday (1757-1831) is a descendant of one of the Sundays listed later on in this chapter who migrated to this country around the middle of the 18th Century.

The paragraphs which follow, and which are set forth with quotation marks, are extracted from the foregoing publication, and are included here for the purpose of gaining an insight into German migration to this country, and for the purpose of acquiring a fuller appreciation of the hardships which our very early ancestors must have endured in seeking civil and religious liberty in the New World.

History of Migration

"Pennsylvania German migration and its part in the settlement and development of America form an epic tale of faith and zeal, of sacrifice and achievement

"The land of what subsequently came to be known as Pennsylvania was granted, as is well known, by King Charles II of England to William Penn in 1681, in liquidation of a debt of 16,000 pounds which the British crown owed to Penn's father Penn was made the proprietary of the province In order to procure settlers for his land, Penn visited the Rhine provinces, whose once peaceful valleys, thriving fields and vine-clad hills had become the hunting ground of political and religious fanatics. Personally and through agents Penn disseminated the news of his acquisition, and invited the Rhinelanders, and the suffering Palatines, to help him found a State in which religious and civil liberty would prevail. Beginning with the Germantown settlement in 1683 (now part of Philadelphia City) , and up to the Revolution and the dawn of the nineteenth century a large-scale immigration followed"

The migration was primarily from that part of the old German Empire known as the Palatinate--a section of the country lying along the Rhine River and in the southern part of Germany. However, at the time of the migration this section of the world was part of the Holy Roman Empire, and it was by reason of religious and civil persecutions by the Church that many people sought freedom through migration.

"One of the best surveys of the early German immigration into Pennsylvania is given by the Rev. Henry Melchoir Muehlenberg, the patriarch of the Lutheran Church He writes: 'In the first period; namely, from 1608 to 1708, some came by chance In the second period in the years 1708, 1709, 1710 to 1720, when the great exodus from the Palatinate to England took place, and a large number of people were sent by Queen Anne (of England) to the Province of New York, and not a few of them came to Pennsylvania In the following third period, from about the years 1720 to 1730, the number of High German Evangelical Christians, from the German Empire, from the Palatinate, Wurttemberg, Darmstadt and other places increased largely.'"

The Journey to Pennsylvania

"The journey to Pennsylvania fell naturally into three parts. The first part, and by no means the easiest, was the journey down the Rhine to Rotterdam or some other port. Gottlieb Mittelberger in his JOURNEY TO PENNSYLVANIA IN THE YEAR 1750 writes: 'The journey lasts from the beginning of May to the end of October, fully half a year, amid such hardships as no one is able to describe adequately with their misery. The cause is that the Rhine boats from Heilbronn to Holland have to pass by 26 custom houses, at all of which the ships are examined. The trip down the Rhine lasts therefore four, five and even six weeks.)

"The second stage of the journey was from Rotterdam to one of the English ports. Most of the ships called at Cowes, on the Isle of Wight In England there was another delay of one to two weeks, when the ships were waiting either to be passed through the custom house or waiting for favorable winds. When the ships had for the last time weighed their anchors at Cowes or some other port in England, then writes Mittelberger, 'the real misery begins with the long voyage, for from there the ships, unless they have good wind, must often sail eight, nine, ten to twelve weeks before they reach Philadelphia'

"The third stage of the journey, or the ocean voyage proper, was marked by much suffering and hardship. The passengers being packed very densely, like herrings, as Mittelberger describes it, without proper food and water, were subject to all sorts of diseases Children were the first to be attacked and died in large numbers The terrors of disease were much aggravated by frequent storms through which the ships and passengers had to pass. One commentator states that 'the misery reaches the climax when a gale rages for two or three nights and days, so that every one believes that the ship will go to the bottom with all human beings on board. In such a visitation the people cry and pray most piteously

"When at last the Delaware River was reached and the City of Brotherly Love hove in sight, where all their miseries were to end, another delay occurred. A health officer visited the ship and, if any persons with infectious diseases were discovered on the ship, it was ordered to remove one mile from the city"

Lists of Arrivals

"In none of the other ports of the American colonies, through which the German settlers entered, were lists of passengers prepared or preserved. Thousands of Germans came to America through the ports of Boston, New York, Baltimore, Charleston and Savannah. Thus, for example, all the early German Reformed Missionaries, sent to Pennsylvania by the Church of Holland, came by way of the port of New York. The same is true of the Lutheran Missionaries, who were sent from Halle, Germany. But whatever settlers came through these other ports, their names are lost, at least in a large majority of cases, because no record was kept of them at the time of their arrival. In Philadelphia alone did the authorities insist on the preparation of careful and detailed lists of arrivals

"The order relating to the duty of captains had three points. First, they were to make a list of all the people they imported. Secondly, they were to give their several occupations, and thirdly, they were to give the places from which the passengers had come But alas, none of the captains paid the slightest attention to the last two points of the order of Council .

(City of Philadelphia) nor the places of domicile in Europe were ever recorded by them. Not even the first point, that they should hand in lists of the names of the people they imported, was interpreted alike by all the captains. Most of them thought that to give the names of the male adults was all that was required. Some captains gave the names of men and women, but omitted the children Of the 324 ships arriving (at the port of Philadelphia) between 1727 and 1775, we have the captains' lists of 138 ships."

A review of the available passenger lists included in the three-volume publication of PENNSYLVANIA GERMAN PIONEERS discloses the following information with respect to individuals arriving at the port of Philadelphia bearing the surname Sunday:

- (List 41 A) - Ship Harle, with Ralph Harle as Master, sailed from Rotterdam, last from Cowes, with 156 men, 65 women, and 167 boys and girls. The passengers were qualified on September 1, 1736, and among the passengers was a Jacob Sontag, age 32 years.
- (List 49 A) - The ship Charming Nancy, with Charles Stedman as Commander, sailed from Rotterdam, and the passengers were qualified on October 8, 1737. Among these passengers were Jacob Sontag, Jacob Sontag, Jr., and under the heading of "Women and Children's Names" were Catrina Sontag and Johan Lodwig Sontag.
- (List 85 A) - The ship St. Andrews, with Charles Stedman as Commander, sailed from Rotterdam. The passengers were qualified on October 2, 1741. Among the passengers was Hend'k Sondagh, age 31 years.
- (List 88 A) - The ship The Snow Molly, with John Cranch as Captain, sailed from Rotterdam, last from Deal. The passengers were qualified on October 26, 1741. Among the passengers was Hans Adam Sontagh, age 27 years. There also appears for this ship's passengers a list numbered 88 B, in which the spelling follows the original German, and the name appears as Hann Adamm Sonntag.

(List 189 C) - The ship Snow Ketty, with Theophilus Barnes as Commander, sailed from Rotterdam, last from Portsmouth. The passengers were qualified on October 16, 1752. Among the passengers was Abraham Sontag.

(List 239 C) - The ship Chance, under Captain Charles Smith, sailed from Rotterdam, last from Cowes, with 193 passengers. The passengers were qualified on November 1, 1763. Among the passengers was Johann Jacob Sonntag.

While the foregoing arrivals definitely bear the surname Sunday, and the data provide an interesting record, it has not been possible to bridge the gap between any of these immigrants and my great-great-grandfather Henry Sunday (1757-1831). Records of births and deaths were not maintained in those days, at least not in accordance with any governmental agency, and only a limited amount of these data are available in the files or records at courthouses or state capitols. The records at New Bloomfield, Perry County, Pennsylvania, for example, go back no farther than 1893; and even in these earlier years much of the reporting was done on the "honor system" with the result that the existing records are not necessarily complete.

Some of the foregoing names of arrivals are found to repeat themselves in subsequent chapters in connection with places of residence and in connection with early war service records, and a comparison of these data is interesting. Undoubtedly some of the names represent the same person, but due to lack of records which trace an individual's movements through the years, it has not been possible to determine the significance of these data in relation to specific individuals or in relation to my great-great-grandfather.

PLACES OF RESIDENCE OF THE EARLY ANCESTORS

Just as it has been impossible to definitely connect the early Sunday immigrants of the preceding chapters with the ancestors appearing in the Family Charts appearing in Chapter VIII, so has it been impossible to definitely ascertain where the early ancestors of those appearing in the Charts may have originally settled in the New World.

Due to the passage of time, variations in the spelling of the surname, and lack of data which would permit tracing movements of individuals from one place to another, the results of the research in this connection are not conclusive. It is a fact, however, that persons bearing the surname Sunday resided many years ago, and even before the American Revolution, in several of the eastern counties of Pennsylvania. This is disclosed by a publication entitled HEADS OF FAMILIES AT THE FIRST CENSUS OF THE UNITED STATES TAKEN IN THE YEAR 1790, which was made under the supervision of the United States Department of Commerce and Labor; and by a search of the tax lists included in the Third Series of the PENNSYLVANIA ARCHIVES. These individuals resided in Northampton, Northumberland, Berks, Bucks, Cumberland, Lancaster and York counties of Pennsylvania. No individuals are shown as having resided at these periods in what is now known as Perry County, Pennsylvania, for the reason that Perry County was not erected until 1820. Prior to 1820 the area comprising Perry County was a part of Cumberland County.

Heads of Families at the First Census of the United States taken in the Year 1790

In March 1790, at about which time the first census was taken, the United States comprised only 12 states. The inhabitants, having had no experience with census taking, imagined that some scheme for increasing taxation was involved, and were inclined to be cautious lest they should reveal too much of their own affairs. There was also opposition to enumeration on religious grounds, a count of persons being regarded as a cause for Divine displeasure. The census details show, by states and by counties, the name of the head of each family, the number of white males of 16 years of age and upwards, the number of white males under 16 years of age, the number of white females (including the wife), and the number of slaves owned by the family. In no instance were slaves owned by those bearing the surname Sunday, according to the census of 1790.

Following is the data obtained from the census records of 1790 showing the location of Sunday families residing in Pennsylvania at that time:

Henry Sundag (Berks County, Albany Township)

Free white males of 16 years of age and upwards, including head of family - - - - -	1
Free white males under 16 years of age - - - - -	2
Free white females, including the wife - - - - -	5

Christopher Sundag (Berks County, Greenwich Township)

Free white males of 16 years of age and upwards, including head of family - - - - -	1
Free white males under 16 years of age - - - - -	5
Free white females, including the wife - - - - -	4

Jacob Sunday (Dauphin County)

Free white males of 16 years of age and upwards, including head of family - - - - -	1
Free white males under 16 years of age - - - - -	3
Free white females, including the wife - - - - -	6

Joseph Sunday (York County, Paradise Township)

Free white males of 16 years of age and upwards, including head of family - - - - -	1
Free white males under 16 years of age - - - - -	1
Free white females, including the wife - - - - -	2

Adam Sondag (Berks County, Brunswick Township)

Free white males of 16 years of age and upwards, including head of family - - - - -	1
Free white males under 16 years of age - - - - -	0
Free white females, including the wife - - - - -	1

William Sontag (Philadelphia County)

Free white males of 16 years of age and upwards, including head of family - - - - -	3
Free white males under 16 years of age - - - - -	2
Free white females, including the wife - - - - -	3

The foregoing list includes only 42 individuals but, due to the difficulties in traveling at this period in the history of the country, and due to the reluctance on the part of some to impart complete information to the census takers, it is very probable that many deficiencies exist in this first census of the United States.

It is believed sufficiently significant to point out that the Henry Sundag heading the foregoing list of names may very well be my great-great-grandfather Henry Sunday (1757-1831). He would have been 33 years of age at the time of the census; the spelling of the surname as Sundag conforms with the signature to his Will; and possibly more important than these is the fact that the census records for Henry Sundag and family, as between males and females, agree with my great-great-grandfather's family as developed in this genealogy, except for one son. It may very well be that the son, either John or Jacob, was not born until after the as of date of the census.

Tax Lists - Pennsylvania Archives

The tax lists show, by name and county, those who were taxed, the amount of the tax, and the acreage and livestock owned. The taxes shown in the publications for the early years are expressed in the British monetary system of pounds, shillings and pence.

In the following list of data taken from the tax lists, all county references relate to Pennsylvania:

Henry Sunday	- owned 50 acres in Bucks County in 1745
Henry Sunday	- owned 95 acres in Berks County in 1739
Henry Sunday	- owned 10 acres in Cumberland County in 1812
Jacob Sunday	- owned 100 acres in Lancaster County in 1746
Jacob Sunday	- owned 35 acres, 1 horse and 1 cow in Lancaster County in 1773
Jacob Sunday	- owned 21 acres, 2 horses and 4 cattle in Lancaster County in 1779
Jacob Sunday	- owned 100 acres, 3 horses and 2 cattle in York County in 1781
Jacob Sunday	- owned 100 acres, 2 horses and 2 cattle in York County in 1782
Jacob Sunday	- owned 100 acres in Berks County in 1810

John Sunday - owned 80 acres, 2 horses and 3 cattle in York County in 1779

John Sunday - owned 100 acres, 3 horses and 2 cattle in York County in 1781

John Sunday - owned 100 acres, 2 horses and 2 cattle in York County in 1782

John Sunday - owned 14.103 acres in Berks County in 1810

John Sunday - owned 20 acres in Berks County in 1819

Joseph Sunday - single freeman in York County in 1779, 1780 and 1781

Henry Sondag - owned 14 acres and 2 cattle in Berks County in 1784

Jacob Sondag - owned 1 horse and 1 cow in Lancaster County in 1772. No acreage is shown

Jacob Sondag - owned 1 horse and 2 cattle in Berks County in 1781. No acreage is shown

Jacob Sondag - owned 50 acres, 1 horse and 1 cow in Berks County in 1784

Henry Sondag - owned 40 acres in Northampton County in 1771

Jacob Sunday - owned 1 horse and 2 cattle in Berks County in 1780. No acreage is shown

Andrew Sontag - a single freeman in York County in 1783

Jacob Sontag - owned 30 acres and 2 cattle in Lancaster County in 1782

John Sontag - owned 30 acres, 3 horses and 3 cattle in York County in 1780

Adam Sontog - owned 400 acres in Northumberland County in 1793

It is interesting to find that the early tax records show a Henry Sunday owning 50 acres of land in Bucks County, Pennsylvania, as far back as 1745-- over 200 years ago, and approximately 30 years before the American Revolution.

It is highly probable that some of these individuals are the same as, or descendants of, the individuals shown in the preceeding chapter as having migrated to this country. It is also probable that settlement was first made in the eastern counties of Pennsylvania due to their close proximity to the port of Philadelphia, and that later they or their descendants moved westward into other counties such as Cumberland and York where good farm lands also existed.

It could not be determined to what extent the repetition of names in the foregoing list relates to the same individual over the period of years covered by the tax lists. Jacob Sunday, for example, could have moved from Lancaster County, where he resided in 1773 and 1779, to York County in 1781; and furthermore the John Sunday shown as residing in York County in 1779, 1781 and 1782, with different acreages of land, could be the same individual.

Other Data

An interesting, although brief, history of the land holdings in 1822 by my great-great-grandfather Henry Sunday (1757-1831) is found in Volume II, page 1152, of a HISTORY OF THE SUSQUEHANNA AND JUNIATA VALLEYS, printed in 1886 by Everts, Peck & Richards of Philadelphia. The following statement appears in this publication:

"By an article of agreement January 10, 1822, Henry Sunday, Sr., transferred to his son John two parcels of land containing respectively seventy-six and forty-six acres, the one adjoining James Wilson's heirs, James Diven's heirs, Benjamin Dunkleberger and Henry Sunday, Jr., the other tract adjoining Benjamin Dunkleberger and Thomas Kennedy's heirs. At the same date as above Henry, Jr., received one hundred and twenty-two acres, adjoining Thomas Kennedy's heirs, John Sunday, John Kell and others. By this agreement the two sons were to take care of the father, who lived many years after. The John Sunday farm passed into the possession, successively, of Jacob Noftsinger, William Lightner, John Shumaker and now belongs to the Billman heirs. The Henry Sunday, Jr. farm was sold by his heirs to Jeremiah Dunkleberger."

The location of the lands referred to as passing from the father to his two sons is in the vicinity of what is now known as Elliotsburg and Little Germany in Spring Township, Perry County, Pennsylvania.

Volume II, page 1097, of the foregoing history also states that in the Assessment of 1820 for Juniata Township, Perry County, Pennsylvania, an Andrew Sunday owned 100 acres of land, and a John Sunday was a weaver by trade. It is now known what connection, if any, exists between these two individuals and my great-great-grandfather Henry Sunday. The Andrew Sunday included in the Family Charts as my great-uncle was not born until 1836, sixteen years after the year of 1820 for which the assessment was made. It is possible, however, were the facts known, that there is a relationship in both instances.

CHAPTER VI

THE EARLY ANCESTORS IN THE WARS OF THIS COUNTRY

History discloses that about every twenty-five years this country has been involved in war, beginning with the American Revolution and extending through World War II. It was necessary from time to time to lay aside the peaceful pursuits of life and take up arms in defense of those principles believed right and just.

Since a period of almost two hundred years, beginning even prior to the American Revolution, is covered by the individuals appearing in the Family Charts in Chapter VIII, it follows that many of these individuals must have played some part in the past wars of their country.

When the genealogy was first conceived, no thought was given to including data relative to those participating in the six major wars of this country, and for this reason no attempt was made to solicit such information at the time other data were being collected. This is regretted for, with respect to World War I and World War II, it is believed that many of those included in the Family Charts saw service at home or abroad for different periods of time and in different capacities. In the course of this work information was received, however, relative to a few individuals who paid the supreme sacrifice in World Wars I and II, and to a few who at this time continue in the service of their country.

As the work of developing the genealogy progressed, it was decided to ascertain to what extent research would disclose data relative to the older ancestors who may have served in the American Revolution (1775-1783), the War of 1812 (1812-1815), the Civil War (1861-1865), and the Spanish-American War (1898). In this connection, letters were exchanged with Major General Edward F. Witsell, Adjutant General of the United States Army in Washington, D.C., and with Jessica C. Ferguson, Genealogical Librarian of the State Library of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in Harrisburg. A limited amount of data were obtained from these sources, along with the suggestion that the PENNSYLVANIA ARCHIVES be searched for additional information since the pressure of other matters did not permit a complete search of all records on this subject by these two agencies.

The Public Library of the City of Philadelphia contained a copy of the PENNSYLVANIA ARCHIVES, in addition to other war service records. These publications supposedly contain records of all Pennsylvanians who served in the American Revolution, the War of 1812 and the Civil War, but it is not known to what extent the records may be complete and accurate.

These records do not very often show the entire service record of the individual, or the engagements in which they participated; but are in large measure records of the company and battalion with which the individuals were associated at a given time, and can be likened to muster rolls prepared at stated intervals. The research was complicated somewhat by differences in the spelling of the surname, but in some cases it was possible to definitely establish that the different spellings relate to the same individual.

Records covering participants in the Civil War required a tremendous amount of time to review for the reason that there is no general index of names, and it required the scanning of 6500 pages of muster rolls containing approximately 400,000 names. The search disclosed only 8 individuals with the surname Sunday who served in the Civil War.

The following was obtained from the 5th and 6th Series of the PENNSYLVANIA ARCHIVES with respect to the American Revolution and the War of 1812, from Bates' HISTORY OF PENNSYLVANIA VOLUNTEERS with respect to the Civil War, and from the RECORD OF PENNSYLVANIA VOLUNTEERS IN THE SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

American Revolution

Adam Sunday

- entered Bower's Company in 1781 and transferred to 2nd Regiment (Bower's Company) in 1782.

Christopher Sunday

- served as an 8th Class Private in 1778 in 6th Company, 3rd Battalion, of Northampton Militia under Captain Matthias Robst. Also served as an 8th Class Private in 1780 and 1782 in the 6th Company of the 6th Battalion under Captain Matthias Robst.

- Henry Sunday - served in 1788 in 5th Company, 2nd Battalion, of Northampton County Militia under Captain Traxler, Jr.
- Jacob Sunday - served as an Ensign in 1776 in Captain Metrick's Company of Berks County.
- Jacob Sunday - served as a 3rd Class Private in 1782 in the 2nd Company, 3rd Battalion, of Lancaster County Militia under Captain Ream. Also served as a 3rd Class Private in 1786 in the 4th Company, 5th Battalion, of Lancaster County Militia under Captain Ream.
- John Sunday - served in 7th Company of York County Militia under Captain Jacob Ament.
- Joseph Sunday - served as a 5th Class Private from 1780 to 1782 in 6th Company, 5th Battalion, of York County Militia under Captain Andrew Bolly. Also served in 7th Company, 5th Battalion, under Captain Andrew Bolly.
- Andrew Sunday - served as an Ensign in 1781 in 6th Company, 5th Battalion, of Paradise Township, York County, under Captain Andrew Bolly. Also served as a 6th Class Private in same organization in 1782.
- Michl Sunday - served in 7th Company of York County Militia under Captain John Ament.
- Patrich Sunday - served in Class No. 5 of 7th Company, 2nd Battalion, of Philadelphia Militia under Captain William Young.
- Jacob Suntag - served as 3rd Class Private in 1779 in Captain John Smuller's Company, 9th Battalion, of Lancaster County Militia.

Jacob Sunday

- served as 3rd Class Private in 1781 in 2nd Company, 3rd Battalion, of Lancaster County Militia under Captain Ream.

Harmon Suntag

- served as a Private in Captain John Huling's Company, 3rd Pennsylvania Regiment, from February 16, 1776 to January 1, 1777.

The Henry Sunday listed as the 3rd item under the foregoing list of those participating in the American Revolution could very well be my great-great-grandfather Henry Sunday (1757-1831) at the age of 31 years.

War of 1812

Adam Sumtag
Adam Sunday
Adam Suntag

- These three different spellings appear on three adjacent muster rolls and since other members of the Company are the same in all three rolls, it is assumed that the three foregoing names represent the same person.

At September 5, 1814 was in Captain Fisher's Company, 5th Battalion, 1st Brigade, of Pennsylvania Militia. Service extended from September 1, 1814 to March 5, 1815, and place of residence was Lebanon County.

George Sunday

- served as a Private in 1814 in 5th Regiment of Pennsylvania Militia stationed at Buffalo, N.Y., under Captain Andrew Mitchell. Service extended from February 24, 1814 to August 24, 1814.

William L. Sontag, Jr.

- served as a Sergeant in Captain Hartman Kuhn's Company, 1st Regiment of Pennsylvania Volunteers from August 26, 1814 to January 4, 1815.

Civil War

Albert Sunday

- served as a Private in Company "G" of 96th Regiment; Company recruited in Dauphin, Berks and Schuylkill Counties; mustered in October 23, 1861; was prisoner of war from November 19, 1863 to October 1, 1864, following which he was immediately discharged.

William Sunday

- served as a Private in Company "A" of 122nd Regiment; Company recruited in Montour County along with many employees of the Danville Iron Works; mustered in August 14, 1862; mustered out with Company May 24, 1863.

Jacob W. Sunday
Jacob W. Sundry

- served as a Private in Company "B" of 143th Regiment; Company recruited at Perryville, Juniata County; mustered in February 16, 1864; also served in Company "I" of 53rd Regiment; mustered out with Company June 30, 1865.

John Sunday

- served as a Private in Company "J" of 160th Regiment; Company recruited in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and other parts of the Commonwealth; mustered in October 10, 1862; transferred to Company "K" of same Regiment; mustered out with Company June 21, 1865. (Regiment was also known as 15th Anderson Cavalry).

Henry M. Sunday

- served as a Private in Company "D" of 201st Regiment; Company recruited at Harrisburg from points in Perry, Cumberland and Dauphin Counties; mustered out with Company June 21, 1865.

Frederick Sundag

- served as a Private in Company "F" of 38th Regiment; mustered in May 1, 1864; mustered out June 15, 1865.

Peter Sontag

- served as a Private in Company "A" of 27th Regiment; Company recruited in Philadelphia; mustered in May 31, 1861; discharged by surgeon's certificate.

William Sontag

- served as a Private in Company "E" of 21st Regiment; mustered in at Philadelphia on April 29, 1861. (All were Philadelphians, mostly of German descent).

Spanish-American War

George W. Sunday

- served as a Private in Company "B", 5th Regiment; residence Bellefonte, Penna.; enrolled April 27, 1898; mustered in May 11, 1898; mustered out with Company on November 7, 1898.

John Sunday

- served as a Private in Light Battery "B"; residence Allegheny, Penna.; enrolled June 18, 1898; mustered in June 18, 1898; mustered out with Battery on November 27, 1898.

Robert Sunday

- served as a Private in Company "M" of 4th Regiment; residence Pottsville, Penna.; enrolled July 5, 1898; mustered in July 6, 1898; mustered out with Company on November 16, 1898.

William E. Sonntag

- served as a Private in Company "B" of 2nd Regiment; residence Philadelphia, Penna.; enrolled May 10, 1898; mustered in May 13, 1898; and discharged with Company in Philadelphia on October 25, 1898.

THE FAMILY AND THE CHURCH

The early immigrants to this country were, by and large, God-fearing people. They were strong in their faith, conscientious in their relations with their God, and rather than compromise these principles finally sought religious freedom in the New World following that mighty and eventful agitation of the 16th Century--the Reformation.

Having suffered through a succession of many years of the most inhuman cruelties and barbarous tortures in the Old World at the hands of the Roman church, these pioneers found refuge in America where they might love and serve their God and maintain their attachment to a system of faith and order of worship which they would not conscientiously relinquish.

Among the immigrants to this country were many who were members of the Reformed and Lutheran churches, and at one time or another some of them, or their immediate descendants, settled in that part of Pennsylvania now known as Perry and Cumberland counties. Historians tell us that for many years there were no ministers, as we now know them, and that services, conducted in German, were held in private homes and in crudely constructed schoolhouses. Later on churches were built, mostly of hewn logs, and for some time were known as "union churches", being jointly used by several denominations.

Any history of the older Sunday families, however brief, would not be complete without some recognition of the part the church played in their lives. No better single instance could be selected than that which relates to St. Peter's Reformed Church in Spring Township, Perry County, Pennsylvania, and the nearby churches at Loysville and Landisburg. It was principally in these areas that quite a few of the older Sunday generations settled and raised their families. It is significant to mention at this point that in the cemetery at St. Peter's Reformed Church will be found the graves of my great-great-grandfather Henry Sunday (1757-1831), and his wife Mary Ann (1757-1846); my great-grandfather Henry Sunday (1788-1836), and his wife Rebecca Asper (1793-1871); my grandfather Henry Sunday (1827-1908), and his first wife Isabella Shaeffer (1832-1873); my great-uncle Jeremiah Sunday (1834-1890), and his first wife Sarah Ann Wagner (1832-1877); my great-uncle Andrew Sunday (1836-1916), and his wife Wilhemina Zartman (1843-1900); my uncle Albert Kingsborough (1856-1915), and his wife Sarah Alice Sunday (1855-1897); and other relatives.

Many of the older Sundays were members of St. Peter's; some served on the official board of the church, while others were instrumental in the development and growth of the church following its organization in the year 1805. Since St. Peter's played such an important part in the religious lives of many Sunday families, it seems only proper to include some history relative to the early years of this church. For this history I am indebted to a publication entitled A BRIEF HISTORICAL SKETCH OF THE LANDISBURG CHARGE, REFORMED CHURCH IN U.S., written in 1887 by Rev. M.H. Groh, pastor of the Landisburg Charge from April 1884 to April 1888. The Landisburg Charge in 1887 comprised the following churches:

Trinity	- - - - -	Landisburg
Lebanon	- - - - -	Loysville
St. Peter's	- - - - -	Spring Township
St. John's	- - - - -	Elliottsburg

History of St. Peter's Reformed Church

Prior to the organization of St. Peter's "union" church in 1805, the Reformed and Lutheran congregations in this part of the county worshiped in the Lebanon "union" church which was a log structure erected at Loysville in 1795. This structure was later replaced by a brick building which was dedicated on March 2, 1851.

However, sometime between 1795 and 1800, a schoolhouse was built on the precise spot which was afterwards selected as the location of the log church at St. Peter's, and a little north from where now stands the present brick church erected in 1858. The Reformed congregation at St. Peter's was organized in 1805 and worshiped in the log schoolhouse until a new log church was erected and dedicated in 1817. This log church was known as a "union" church, being used by both the Reformed and Lutheran congregations in this immediate area. The structure was of hewn logs and measured thirty-five by forty feet. The south door of the log church was the entrance for the gentlemen, and the west door was the entrance for the ladies.

The log church continued in use for forty years and was the joint property of the Reformed and Lutheran congregations, and until 1858 was the only church edifice in this locality. In 1857 the Lutheran congregation decided to erect its own church edifice, and separate itself from the St. Peter's "union" church. Since the log church left much to be desired in the way of a modern structure at that time, the Reformed congregation likewise decided to erect a new brick church of their own. This new brick church was erected on precisely the same spot as the log church. The last service in the log church was conducted on March 22, 1857 at which time the Lord's Supper was celebrated and sixteen were admitted to the church by rite of confirmation.

The dedication of the new brick Reformed church at St. Peter's was held on September 19, 1858; and the new brick Lutheran church, known as Mt. Zion, was erected at about the same time, and still stands on a small hill across the fields from the St. Peter's Reformed Church.

I do not know what happened to the cornerstone of the old log church which, as mentioned hereafter, was laid in 1816; but the cornerstone of the present church reads as follows: ST. PETER'S GERMAN REFORMED CHURCH - BUILT 1816 - TAKEN DOWN AND REBUILT 1857-1858.

A recapitulation of significant dates in the history of St. Peter's Reformed Church follows:

- St. Peter's Church, organized in the year 1805
- First church built in the year 1817 (log church)
- Cornerstone laid on April 15, 1816
- Dedication of the log church in the spring of 1817
- Last services held in the old log church on March 22, 1857
- Second church built in 1858 (present brick church)
- Cornerstone laid on August 23, 1857
- Dedication of the present brick church on September 19, 1858
- St. Peter's Union Sunday-school organized in June 1843
- The Sunday-school of St. Peter's Reformed Church organized April 4, 1869
- Consecration of St. Peter's cemetery on August 23, 1864
- Incorporation of St. Peter's Reformed Church on October 31, 1864

The records of the church disclose that the following served as church officers at St. Peter's between 1805 and 1887:

J. Sunday - elected Deacon May, 1863, (my great-uncle Jeremiah Sunday at the age of 29 years)

A.J. Sunday - elected Deacon October 31, 1869 (my great-uncle Andrew Sunday at the age of 33 years)

Reception of Members into St. Peter's Reformed Church

An additional interesting aspect of the religious lives of some of the older generations of the Sunday family is disclosed by the records of St. Peter's Reformed Church which reveal the dates individuals were received into the church. The records are believed to be incomplete, but the following information was obtained from Rev. M.H. Groh's publication relative to quite a few of the older Sunday families:

Receptions by Rev. Albert Helffenstein, pastor from 1811 to 1819

By Certificate - 1814

Sunday, Mrs. Rebecca (my great-grandmother at the age of 21 years, and wife of Henry Sunday)

Receptions by Rev. Jacob Scholl, pastor from 1819 to 1840

By Confirmation - 1825

Sunday, Jeremiah (my great-uncle at the age of 23 years.
His class of catechumens was the last to be confirmed in the old log church)

Receptions by Rev. Henry Mosser, Pastor from 1860 to 1864

By Confirmation - May 24, 1862

Sunday, Mrs. Wilhemina (my great-aunt, at the age of 28 years, and wife of Andrew Sunday)

Receptions by Rev. T.F. Hoffmeier, pastor from 1868 to 1872

By Confirmation - April 16, 1870

Sunday, Willis (my uncle at the age of 19 years)
Sunday, Mrs. Isabella (my grandmother at the age of 38 years, and wife of Henry Sunday)
Sunday, Sarah Alice (my aunt, at the age of 15 years, and later wife of Albert Kingsborough)

By Reprofeffion - April 16, 1870

Sunday, Henry (my grandfather at the age of 43 years)

Receptions by Rev. W.H. Herbert, pastor from 1874 to 1880

By Confirmation - April 20, 1878

Sunday, Rebecca J. (daughter of my great-uncle Andrew Sunday, at the age of 18 years, and later wife of Thomas James Bernard Hough)

By Confirmation - April 19, 1879

Sunday, Ida (daughter of my great-uncle Andrew Sunday, at the age of 15 years, and later wife of Aaron Clark Parrott)

Receptions by Rev. M.H. Groh, pastor from 1884 to 1888

By Confirmation - May 9, 1885

Sunday, Jemima C. (daughter of Jeremiah Sunday, at the age of 16 years, and later wife of Fredrick William Austin)

In addition to the foregoing receptions of members at St. Peter's, the records show the following reception at Trinity Reformed Church in Landisburg:

Reception by Rev. C.H. Leinbach, pastor from 1842 to 1859

By Confirmation - June 24, 1855

Sunday, Andrew (my great-uncle at the age of 21 years)

My first recollection of St. Peter's dates from the burial of my grandfather Henry Sunday in 1908 when I was 13 years of age. It was the period of the horse and buggy and, after services at my home in Newport, the relatives drove to St. Peter's where they were joined by relatives from Cumberland County and nearby points. Strange as it may seem, I also remember that we took our lunch along which we ate under the large trees in the church yard after the burial. In those days it was a time-consuming trip by horse and buggy--quite different from driving the distance now by automobile over good roads.

I do not recall having visited St. Peter's for many, many years following my grandfather's burial, but during the past five years I have made many visits. The beauty of the spot is high lighted by the well-kept church edifice and burial grounds, and by its location on a high knoll with the Blue Mountain rising in the background. The church is easily seen standing forth like a sentinel against the sky when viewed from the highway extending between Bridgeport and Wagoner's Gap. It is indeed a hallowed spot, and represents so much in the spiritual lives of the older Sunday generations.

CHAPTER VIII

FAMILY CHARTS

The family charts included in this chapter might be said to represent the end result of this work. Before attempting to study the charts in detail, however, it is suggested that the explanatory text which immediately follows be carefully read for a better understanding of the arrangement of the charts and the symbols employed. Following the explanatory text relating to the charts as a whole will be found supplementary information relative to many of the older ancestors included on Chart 1 which is the "key" or starting chart from which all succeeding charts stem.

Explanatory Text

Due to the extensive growth of families originating with my great-great-grandparents, Henry Sunday (1757-1831) and Mary Ann Sunday (1757-1846), it was not practical to include the entire development on a single chart. The development consists, therefore, of 31 charts. Each chart is numbered in the upper right-hand section and, as applicable, the number of the chart of which it is a continuation is also shown.

In the body of many of the charts will be found blocks bearing the wording "Continued on Chart No. ____". By referring to the chart number indicated, the continuation of the particular branch or family will be found, either complete or further continued by appropriate reference, depending upon the size of the branch or family. These references make it readily possible to trace any family or individual from my great-great-grandparents forward.

Each chart which is a continuation of a previous chart bears, in addition to the chart number from which continued, a suffix number following the chart number. For example, "Continued from Chart No. 12-5", indicates that the immediately preceding portion of the development will be found on Chart No. 12 in the vertical column of Chart No. 12 bearing the numeral 5. This affords a ready means of working backwards from any individual to my great-great-grandparents.

The design of the charts is believed to be conducive to readily determining relationships and to showing the members of each family or group of families. By following the horizontal and vertical lines connecting the various blocks, it is readily possible to trace the growth of families, and to ascertain the names of the individuals included in each of the families.

With a few exceptions, all charts have been designed in such a way that the children for each family appear in the order of their birth, beginning with the first born at the extreme left. In cases where dates of birth could not be obtained, however, this rule does not necessarily apply.

The first, middle and surname for each individual is shown on the charts except in those instances where space does not permit, or where the full name is not available. Females are included under the maiden name only.

The dates appearing below each name represent the year of birth and the year of death. In some cases neither date could be obtained. Except for the earlier generations now deceased and for some individuals whose dates of death could not be obtained, the absence of the year of death indicates that the individual is living at the time of this development.

The genealogy of the Sunday descendants should not include those adopted children whose original parents were not of the Sunday line of descent. However, failure on my part to consider this possibility and to request, when the questionnaires were forwarded families, that data with respect to adopted children be individually set forth, makes it impossible at this late date to fully cover the matter on the charts. Information relative to a few adoptions was voluntarily offered when the questionnaires were returned, and to this extent the charts indicate adoptions although it is not known whether the individuals adopted are or are not of the Sunday blood line of descent. Known adoptions are indicated on the charts by the symbol (A) immediately following the name of the individual.

The charts show some second marriages but not all. Second marriages are not shown in those cases where the remarried individual is not of the Sunday blood line of descent, and providing, of course, that the other party to this second marriage is likewise not of the Sunday blood line. Similarly, some first marriages are not shown for the reason that neither party to the first marriage was of the Sunday line; but upon either party remarrying into the Sunday line of descent, then this second marriage is shown together with all succeeding generations. While marriages of the type excluded are historically correct, they are not genealogically correct for the same reason as previously indicated for certain adopted children.

Supplementary Information

Chart 1, as previously stated, is the "key" or starting chart. This chart shows the descendants of my great-great-grandparents down to the present generation insofar as it has been possible to include the data in this initial chart. Supplementary information with respect to many of those included on Chart 1 follows:

Henry Sunday (Column 6) - The 7 children shown for Henry Sunday (1757-1831) and his wife Mary Ann are the children mentioned in his Will, a copy of which appears in the Appendix. It is not known, however, whether there were any children in addition to those specifically mentioned in the Will. There may have been deceased children at the time the Will was executed in 1822 and naturally these children, if any, would not be mentioned.

The surname of my great-great-grandmother is unknown, and while great-great-grandfather's Will shows the given name as "Maryan", the spelling used in the chart is "Mary Ann" as this is the way it appears on the gravestone in St. Peter's Reformed Church cemetery in Perry County, Pennsylvania, where both great-great-grandparents are buried.

John Sunday (Column 1) - Nothing definite was found relative to John Sunday and any family he may have had. An old grave marker in St. Peter's Reformed Church cemetery reads "Infant daughter of John Sunday", and the marker is adjacent to other very old Sunday markers. It is highly probable that this infant is the daughter of the John Sunday included in this chart.

Jacob Sunday (Column 3) - While nothing definite has been found with respect to Jacob, it is to be regretted that a lead which would take me into York County, Pennsylvania, could not be followed as several individuals by the name of Jacob Sunday are buried there. To follow this lead would require possibly a month of research in York County, and present business connections in Philadelphia make it impossible to be absent for such a period of time.

It was through Rev. William F. Sunday, Ph.D., pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd in Brooklyn, N.Y.; George M. Sunday of York, Pennsylvania; and W.W. Eisenhart of Abbottstown, Adams County, Pennsylvania that this lead originated. Information received is to the effect that a Jacob Sunday (1785-1843) is buried in Salem Cemetery, Dover, York County, Pennsylvania; that a Jacob Sunday born in 1773 is buried in Holtzwan Cemetery; and that a Jacob Sunday (1781-1825) married Anna Margaret _____ (1783-1851). Possibly one of the three foregoing is the Jacob Sunday in question, but only extensive research could prove or disprove this fact.

Henry Sunday 1783-1836 (Column 5) - The descendants of my great-grandfather and his wife Rebecca (Asper) Sunday constitute, by and large, the bulk of the data included on all the charts. It was this portion of the work which seemed to entail the least difficulty in development for the reason that closer contacts have been maintained with these descendants down through the years than were maintained with respect to the descendants of my great-grandfather's brothers and sisters.

My great-grandfather's Will, a copy of which is included in the Appendix, refers to "my ten children", but only two are mentioned by name; namely, Leah and Sarah. The names of nine children have been ascertained, but the tenth child is unknown and is so indicated in Column 10. Furthermore, it is not known whether there may have been deceased children at the time the Will was executed in 1836 and naturally these children, if any, would not be mentioned in the Will.

Both my great-grandparents are buried in St. Peter's Reformed Church cemetery in Perry County, Pennsylvania.

Magdelana Sunday (Column 6) - This spelling of the given name is as it appears in my great-great-grandfather's Will, but since the spelling was underlined at the time the Will was recorded at New Bloomfield Courthouse to indicate an error, the correct spelling should probably be "Magdalena".

According to the above Will, Magdelana married a Mr. Rode or a Mr. Road, the two different spellings appearing in the Will when referring to the same individual. Nothing definite has been found relative to any family of this union other than a grandson Daniel Road mentioned in the above Will. However, in the Loysville cemetery are located the graves of a Henry Road (1812-1834) and a George Road (1814-1829), but it is not known whether these individuals are in the line of descent of Magdelana (Sunday) Road.

Christiana Sunday (Column 7) - The spelling of the given name in great-great-grandfather's Will appears in one instance as "Christiana" and in another instance as "Cristana". According to the above Will, Christiana married a Mr. Trostel, but no information was found relative to descendants.

1695580

Mary Ann Sunday (Column 8) - According to my great-great-grandfather's Will, Mary Ann (spelled Maryan in the Will) married a Mr. Bensil. Nothing has been found relative to any family they may have had. The spelling of the name "Bensil" could be in error as people resided in the section of Perry County, Pennsylvania, where many of the Sunday ancestors resided whose names were Bentzel and Bentsel. The pronunciation of the three differently spelled names is identical.

Elizabeth Sunday (Column 10) - According to my great-great-grandfather's Will, Elizabeth married a Mr. Kell, but nothing has been found relative to any family they may have had. Records disclose, however, that a Mrs. Elizabeth Kell was received into St. Peter's Reformed Church by certificate in 1814, and it is probable that these two names refer to the same individual.

Ann Sunday (Column 1) - Both Ann Sunday and her husband Daniel Fry are buried in the cemetery at Dellville, Perry County, Pennsylvania. The descendants reside principally in Missouri, Oregon and Pennsylvania, and several are at this time holding high rank in the armed forces of the United States in Europe.

Abigail Sunday (Column 2) - Andrew Comp, Jr. who married Abigail Sunday is a son of Andrew Comp, Sr. and his wife Mary Shoner. Andrew Comp, Sr., a native of Perry County, Pennsylvania, was a farmer. There were twelve children to Andrew Comp, Sr. and Mary Shoner, as follows: Mollie (Mrs. John Keighter); Sarah (Mrs. John Shearer); Eliza (Mrs. William Foose); Fannie (Mrs. Samuel Clouser); Mary (Mrs. Samuel Shull); Sophia (Mrs. Henry Bentsel); Daniel; Samuel who married Catharine Barr or Bare; Andrew, Jr.; and three who died in infancy.

Andrew Comp, Sr. (1782-1875) and his wife Mary Shoner are buried in the old cemetery at New Bloomfield, Perry County, Pennsylvania.

Andrew Comp, Jr. (1812-1852) and his wife Abigail Sunday (1814-1865) are buried in St. Peter's Reformed Church cemetery in Spring Township, Perry County, Pennsylvania. Following the death of her husband Andrew Comp, Jr. at an early age of 40 years, Abigail married George Snyder. Her gravestone reads "Abigail--wife of George Snyder".

While many of the descendants reside in Cumberland County, Pennsylvania, others reside in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, and vicinity; California;

Illinois; New Jersey; Philadelphia; in various parts of Perry County; and in other sections of Pennsylvania.

Henry Sunday 1827-1908 (Column 3) - Following the death of his first wife Isabella Sheaffer in 1873, Henry Sunday married Elizabeth (Baker) Demuth. Elizabeth was the daughter of Philip Baker (1799-1870) and his wife Elizabeth (1797-1886), and she was first married to John F. Demuth. To this union was a son Theodore Baker Demuth who died in 1866 at the age of 9 years. Elizabeth Demuth, her parents, her first husband and son Theodore are buried in Center cemetery in Juniata County, Pennsylvania. My grandfather Henry Sunday and his first wife Isabella Sheaffer are buried in St. Peter's Reformed Church cemetery, Perry County, Pennsylvania. The descendants reside largely in central and eastern Pennsylvania.

Polly Sunday (Column 4) - According to information received from relatives, Polly Sunday married a Mr. Mickey, but no additional data could be found relative to any family they may have had.

Catharine Sunday (Column 5) - The children of Catharine Sunday and George Sheaffer very likely resided for the greater part of their lives in the southern part of Perry County in the vicinity of Shermansdale, Carroll Township, Pennsylvania, as all six children are buried in Young's United Brethern Church graveyard located but a short distance from Shermansdale. The husbands or wives, as the case may be, are also buried in this graveyard with the exception of John Philip Leonard, the husband of Emma Sheaffer, who is buried in Grier's Point graveyard in Rye Township, Perry County, Pennsylvania, beside his second wife Ellen Kohr. A son John W. Leonard (1888-1889) to the second wife is also buried at Grier's Point.

All the descendants of Catharine Sunday and George Sheaffer have not been set forth for the reason that inquiries addressed to several of the descendants remain unanswered. The known descendants reside largely in Harrisburg; Duncannon R.D., Marysville R.D. #1, and Shermansdale, Perry County, Pennsylvania.

Leah Sunday (Column 6) - According to church records, Samuel Beitzel, husband of Leah Sunday, was received into the membership of St. Peter's Reformed Church by certificate in 1839. The descendants reside principally in New Jersey; Harrisburg, Pennsylvania; and in Cumberland and Franklin Counties, Pennsylvania.

Jeremiah Sunday (Column 8) - Jeremiah and his first wife Sarah Ann Wagner are buried in St. Peter's Reformed Church cemetery, Perry County, Pennsylvania. His second wife Kate A. Sloop is buried in Grier's Point cemetery, Rye Township, Perry County, Pennsylvania. The descendants reside principally in Cumberland County, Pennsylvania; Ohio; New Jersey; South Carolina; and the eastern section of Pennsylvania.

Andrew Jackson Sunday (Column 9) - Andrew and his wife Wilhemina Zertman are buried in St. Peter's Reformed Church cemetery, Perry County, Pennsylvania. The descendants reside principally in Oklahoma, California, Texas, Colorado, and Pennsylvania.

Rebecca Jane Sunday (Column 5) - The descendants of Rebecca Jane and her husband Thomas James Bernard Hough are located largely in the West in the states of Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, and California. Both the husband and the wife died in Oklahoma.

Ida Sunday (Column 7) - Ida and her husband Aaron Clark Parrott lived for many years in the West, and both died in Oklahoma. The descendants are located principally in Oklahoma and California.

Katie Florence Sunday (Column 8) - Katie and her husband Harry Monroe Miller lived in Fishing Creek Valley, Perry County, Pennsylvania for many years, and the husband and youngest son Forrest Sunday Miller (Column 10) continue residing at the home following the death of Katie in 1949. The oldest child, Rev. Paul Monroe Miller, is pastor of the Evangelical United Brethern Church in Newport, Perry County, Pennsylvania.

Charles Sunday (Column 10) - It is my understanding that Charles died while quite young, and is buried in the South where his parents were at the time residing.

Following is a numerical listing of the Family Charts. The names opposite each number are those individuals from which the many families included on the particular chart stem. It follows, therefore, that the charts include families not specifically mentioned in this listing. It was thought that this list might afford some means of finding a particular family branch without referring to the Index to Names in the rear of the book.

A P P E N D I X

The inclusion herein of a copy of the Will of my great-great-grandfather Henry Sunday (1757-1831) and of my great-grandfather Henry Sunday (1788-1836) is not for the purpose of divulging any of the family affairs (for Wills are a matter of public information), but the inclusion is for the purpose of affording a contrast between the way Wills were drawn up almost 125 years ago and the manner in which many are phrased today.

In my great-great-grandfather's Will, executed about 10 years prior to his death in 1831, he mentions by name his wife, three sons and four daughters. These names were very helpful in developing the Family Charts (Chapter VIII), although it is not known whether there may have been additional children, especially deceased, at the time the Will was executed.

In the case of my great-grandfather's Will, the name of the wife (Rebecca Asper) is not mentioned; and while the Will refers to "my ten children", only two of their names are mentioned; namely, Leah and Sarah.

The underlined words in the two Wills represent misspelled words found by the Registrar and so marked by him when the Wills were copied into the Will Books.

The Article of Agreement referred to in the Will of my great-great-grandfather Henry Sunday is the agreement mentioned in Chapter V - "Places of Residence of the Early Ancestors", whereby the father transferred lands to his two sons Henry Sunday, Jr. and John Sunday with the provision that they take care of the father during his remaining years.

Copy of Will

My great-great-grandfather Henry Sunday, Senior executed January 10, 1822, as contained in

Will Book "A" (1820-1835), page 402,

located in the Courthouse at New Bloomfield, Perry County, Pennsylvania

In the name of God, Amen. I, Henry Sunday, Senior, of Tyrone Township in the County of Perry and State of Pennsylvania, being in perfect health of body and of sound mind, memory and understanding. Blessed be God for the same, but considering the uncertainty of this transitory life do make and publish this my last Will and Testament in the following manner to be it. Principally, and first of all, I commend my immortal soul into the hands of God who gave it and my body to the earth to be buried in a decent and Christian-like manner. And as to such worldly estate wherewith it has pleased God to bless me with in this life I give and dispose of the same in the following manner: It is my will and I do order that all my just debts and funeral expences be duly paid and satisfied as soon as conveniently can be after my decease. And I give and bequeath my dear wife Maryan Sunday three beds, bedsteds and as many bed-cloaths as she may chooss to keep--also the clock, cobard, dresser, and all the tea ware, plates and dishes in and about the same. Also the tin plate stove and chest; tables, chairs and as muth of my house hold furniture and kitchen utensils as she my said wife may choose to keep for her own use. Also all the linnen and woolen yarn and cloath which may be in my house or elsewhere belonging to me at my decease. And also two good milch cows--And further it is my will that all the money, bonds and notes due and coming to me after paying my debts and the legacyes as will be shoon hereafter are to remain in the possession of my said wife, and she is to have as much of the money as she may need for her own use during her life. But she is not to dispose of any "artices" nor lend any money to any of my children or to any other person until good bail shall be given for the payment of the same to my Executors for the use of my children. And further it is my will that my said wife is to have privilage to hire a girl to do her work whose wages is to be paid out of my Estate. And further it is my will that my said wife is to have and occupy the house wherein we now live, also the garden and spring house for her to live in during her life (or so long as she remains my widow), and she is to have all the privileges and receive all the articles of and from Henry Sunday, Junior and John Sunday as mentioned for her use in the Articles of Agreement between myself and the said Henry Sunday and John Sunday relation. Being thereunto had will more fully appears. And further it is my will and I do order that as soon as conveniently be after the decease of my said wife all the property which she may then have which belonged to my Estate is to be sold and the money received for the same and also the money then in her hands is to be divided equally amongst all my children except her bed and bed cloths and her wering apperal which is to be divided equally among my daughters, and further it is my will that my wering apperal is to be divided among my sons. And whereas my son Jacob Sunday has received three hundred and twenty five pounds, my son Henry Sunday has received three hundred and twenty five pounds and my son John Sunday has also received three hundred and twenty five pound, and my daughter Magdalena Road has received one hundred and sixty pounds being in part of their shares of my Estate respectively, and I give and bequeath unto my daughter Maryan Bensil the sum of two hundred and fifty pounds, and I give and bequeath unto my daughter Eliseteth Kell the sum of two hundred and fifty pounds, and I give and bequeath unto my daughter Christiana Trostel the sum of two hundred and fifty pounds, and I give and bequeath unto my daughter Magdelana Rode the sum of forty pounds and I give and bequeath unto my grandson Daniel Rode (sone of the said Magdelana) the sum of fifty pounds--And the several sums of money respectively bequeathed is to be paid by my two sons Henry Sunday and John Sunday in yearly payments as the money becomes due from them the said Henry and John. As in and by the said above recited Article of Agreement will more fully appears. And the money is to be paid to the legatees in manner and form following to be it. The first payment of fifty pounds to be paid to my daughter Maryan Bensil on the first day of April next after my decease. The second payment of fifty pounds to be paid to my daughter Elisebeth Kell on the first day of April which will be in the second year after my decease. And the third payment of fifty pounds to be paid to my daughter Cristana Trostel. The fourth payment of fifty pounds to be paid to my daughter Maryan Bensil, the fifth yearly payment of fifty pounds to be paid to my daughter Elisebeth Kell, and the sixth payment of fifty pounds to be paid to my daughter Cristana Trostel, and so on in the same order until the said Maryan Bensil, Elisebeth Kell and Cristana Trostel shall have received one hundred and fifty pounds each. Then my daughter Magdelana Rode is to receive the sum of forty pounds which is the sum bequeathed to her and then the said Maryan Bensil, Elisebeth Kell and Cristana Trostel are to receive fifty pounds each as it becomes due and in the same order as before. Then my grandson Daniel Road is to receive the fifty pounds when due, it being the sum bequeathed to him and then the said Maryan Bensil, Elisebeth Kell and Cristana Trostel are to receive the money as it becomes due in the same order as before until they shall have received the sum of two hundred and fifty pounds each, the sum bequeathed to them the said Maryan, Elisebeth and Cristana respectively. And further it is my will that if the said Daniel Rode shall dye having no lawful heirs in which case his mother (the said Magdelana Rode) to receive the said fifty pounds bequeathed to him, and further it is my will and I do order that if either of my daughters above named shall dye before they have received the several sums bequeathed to them, such share as may be unpaid at their deth is to be divided amongst their children respectively. And my two sons Henry and John are to give bonds to the legatees as soon as can conveniently be after my decease for the payment of said yearly payments--Agreeable to the before Resited Article--At which time my Executors or the Survivor of them are to convey the land which I sold to the said Henry and John clear of all incumbrance--Except what they said Henry and John are to give to my said wife and the privileges which she is to have on said land which is to be a lean on said land, it being particularly mentioned in said Agreement--And after the death of my said wife the said land to be clear of all incumbrance--And if there is any property left after my decease which my said wife dose not chose to keep, it is to be sold and the money to remain in the hands of my said wife as aforesaid. And lastly, I nominate, constitute and appoint my said wife Maryan Sunday, John Miller and Henry Titsel all of Tyrone Township, Perry County, to be the Executors of this my Will hereby revoking all other Wills, legacy, and bequeaths by me heretofore made and declaring this and no other to be my last Will and Testament. In witness whereof I, Henry Sunday, the testato to this my Will set my hand and seal this tenth day of January in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and twenty two.

of
My great-grandfather Henry Sunday executed April 9, 1836, as contained in Will Book "B" (1835-1854), page 30,
located in the Courthouse at New Bloomfield, Perry County, Pennsylvania

I, Henry Sunday, considering the uncertainty of this mortal life and being of sound mind and memory do make and publish this my last Will and Testament, in the manner and form following; first, that all my debts that shall be due and owing by me at my death shall be paid. I give and bequeath to my beloved wife the following goods and privileges, two cows (her choice of the cows on the farm at my death) to be kept and foddered on the farm with the hay that the farm may produce, and to be pastured on the farm. Also three hogs, to be kept, raised and fatted on the farm. The choice of six sheep, to be kept and fed on and by the pasture and hay raised on the farm, one half an acre of ground for the use of flax and potatoes to be worked and farmed by the person who may be tenant, the flax and potato ground to be adjoining that of tenants, and to be worked by him in the same manner as he shall work his own flax and potatoes. The small house at the north of the Mansion House to be removed to suitable and convenient place and an addition to be built to it for the use of the widow, and to have the privilege of using water out of the well and the use of half of the garden, and half of the cellar under the Mansion House; all fire wood that my widow may need she shall have on the place, to be cut by her and hauled by the tenant or person in possession of the farm. If my wife shall choose to carry on the farming for the present year she shall have privilege to do so, then and in that case it is my will that my personal property except so much as is hereafter reserved for the use of my widow, shall be appraised immediately after my death and remain in possession of my widow until about the first of November next, at which time the same shall be sold by my Executors, and the proceeds of such sale shall be applied to the payment of any debts that may be due and owing at that time, and the balance of such sale to be given to my wife and to be for her use; the plantation to be rented until all my debts of all kinds shall be paid, and after that to be sold at any time my widow and Executors or a majority of them can or shall agree on, and when sold, the one third of the price to remain in the property, and my widow to receive the interest thereof during her natural life (or so long as she may remain my widow). I also will that as soon as my real estate is sold that it shall be divided share and share alike among my ten children. To my daughter Leah and Sarah I give and bequeath each eighty dollars, to be in household furniture, or in money as they may choose to be paid to them as soon as the rents of the place will admit of the above legacy of eighty dollars each to Leah and Sarah, not to be so taken as to prevent them from receiving a full share of my estate when a general distribution shall be made of my real estate. The following are the goods allowed to be kept by the widow-- one stove and pipe, the kitchen dresser and the kitchen furniture such as table, pots, pans, chinaware, knives and forks, etc.; but if it should so happen that my widow should marry again then and in that case all the legacies, reservations and privileges granted to my widow shall cease (except one bed and bedding which she shall have and immediately leave the premises, and all the articles hereby given or bequeathed to her shall return to my children share and share alike), but all the before mentioned legacies she shall have and enjoy during her natural life together with all the meat and grain that is now in the House, and to receive from and off the farm, yearly every year, provided she shall so long remain my widow all the before mentioned articles which are the produce of the farm. The foregoing legacies to be paid to my children when they shall arrive severally at the age of twenty-one years. And I make and ordain Daniel Fry and Andrew Comp, Jr. Executors of this my last Will and Testament, and I hereby ordain and appoint that if any difference, disputes, questions or contravercy shall be moved, arise or happen, concerning any gift, bequest, matter, or thing in this my Will, given and bequeathed expressed or contained, that then no suits in law or equity or otherwise shall be brought, commenced or prosecuted for and concerning the same, but that the same shall be referred wholly to the award, order, and determination of my friends Abraham Shively and John Kitner, both of Tyrone Township, Perry County, and what they shall order and direct or determine therein shall be binding, final and conclusive to all and every person and persons therein concerned. In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal the ninth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six.

INDEX TO NAMES APPEARING ON FAMILY CHARTS

This Index, comprising approximately 1,200 individuals, is an alphabetical listing, by surname, of those included on the Family Charts in Chapter VIII. In a few instances the surname is unknown, and these individuals are set forth separately at the end of the Index in as much detail as is available. Females are included herein under the identity of their maiden names, thereby paralleling the procedure followed in the preparation of the Family Charts.

Opposite each name is shown, in cases where the information is available, the date of birth (prefixed by "b"), the date of death (prefixed by "d"), place of residence, and the chart number reference. The chart number reference or references appearing after each name in the Index indicates on what chart or charts the name of the individual appears, and the suffix number appearing to the right of the chart number indicates the vertically numbered column of the respective chart as a further aid in locating the individual on the chart. For example, Chart No. 10-3 appearing after an individual's name in the Index indicates that the individual will be found on Family Chart No. 10 in the vertical column of the chart bearing the numeral 3. In some instances more than one chart number reference appears for an individual, but this is due to the necessity of carrying forward to a continuation chart that portion which could not be accommodated on the original or master chart for the family or branch thereof.

In the Index will be found different individuals bearing the same full name. The location on the Family Charts of any one of these individuals is to some extent simplified by observing the dates of birth associated therewith. It was not considered practical to indicate in the Index the family line of descent for identically named persons as a further guide to individual identification.

The Index follows.
